2009-04-07

Reading and discussion: beyond the Iron Curtain: new voices from Eastern Europe

Bartis, Attila

Boston University Institute for Human Sciences

http://hdl.handle.net/2144/20082

Boston University
Attila Bartis | Clemens Meyer

Behind the Iron Curtain

A reading and conversation at the Institute for Human Sciences

Attila Bartis was born in Targu Mures, Romania and lives in Hungary. He has been hailed as one of the most highly inventive Central European literary mavericks writing today. He was awarded the Tibor Déry Prize and the Sandor Márai Prize in 2001 for Tranquility.

Clemens Meyer was born in Halle/Saale and lives in Leipzig. A former builder, furniture removal man and security guard, he has won a number of prestigious literary awards, including the main prize at the Leipzig Bookfair for his latest book Die Nacht, Die Lichter.

Askold Melnyczuk is founder and former editor of AGNI, professor at UMass Boston and in Bennington’s MFA program, and author of the new Europe-trotting, gripping, noirish family mystery The House of Widows

In cooperation with the Center for International Relations at Boston University and the literary journal AGNI. Co-sponsored by the American Literary Translators Association (ALTA) and Zephyr Press. Funded by the European Commission Delegation in Washington DC.

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC | RECEPTION TO FOLLOW

Tuesday, April 7, 2009
6:30 PM
Boston University Photonics Center
8 St. Mary’s Street

More Information:
617-358-2778
ihs@bu.edu
www.euforyou.org