1989-09-26

University Hospital News: September 26, 1989

University Hospital, Office of Media Relations

http://hdl.handle.net/2144/20317

Boston University
September 26, 1989

Dear Member of the Media:

I thought you might be interested in this news release from the American College of Radiology (ACR) regarding the appointment of Dr. Jerome Shapiro as ACR president. As mentioned in the release, Dr. Shapiro is a professor and chairman of the Department of Radiology at Boston University School of Medicine and the director of the Department of Radiology at the University Hospital and Boston City Hospital.

If you would like further information, please contact me at (617) 638-8491.

Sincerely,

Sarah Downey
Media Relations Representative
SHAPIRO INSTALLED AS ACR PRESIDENT

Jerome H. Shapiro, M.D., of Wellesley Hills, MA, has been named president of the American College of Radiology (ACR) for 1990-91. The announcement was made during the ACR annual meeting held September 8-14 in Seattle, WA.

Dr. Shapiro is currently professor and chairman of the department of radiology at Boston University School of Medicine and director of radiology at Boston City and University Hospitals.

Dr. Shapiro has held many appointments within ACR, including vice president, member of the Board of Chancellors, councillor, and representative to the Council of Medical Specialty Societies 1980-88.

He has had published more than 100 articles on radiology in a wide variety of medical journals. Topics include: standards of quality in patient care, risk management in radiology, and neuroradiology.

Dr. Shapiro is a member of several radiological societies, including the American Roentgen Ray Society, the Radiological Society of North America, the Association of University Radiologists, and the American Society of Neuroradiology.