CAN SHARE DRIVE GETS UNDER WAY OCT. 26

Now, show that you 'Can Share'

When you grocery shop this weekend, remember to pick up an extra canned or boxed food and bring it to work on Monday—that’s when the Medical Center will help kick off the Boston Can Share food drive.

What: Can Share, a citywide effort organized by the Mayor’s Advisory Commission on Hunger, which seeks donations of canned or boxed food to fill the shelves of more than 350 emergency food pantries throughout Eastern Massachusetts just prior to the holiday season.

When: Monday, Oct. 26 through Friday, Nov. 13

Who: This year’s goal is to collect 4,500 cans—that’s one for every employee, staff, faculty and student at the Medical Center.

Where: Collection sites will be located on the second floor of the Atrium Pavilion, in front of the telecommunications desk; at the security desk on the second floor of the Health Services Building (H-2), and in the lobby of the Doctors Office Building. Collection boxes also will be established in the lobbies of the School of Medicine, School of Dentistry, 609 Albany Street, 801 Albany Street, Harrison Court and the Talbot Building.

Why: Because more people than ever are hungry. This is your opportunity to show that you ‘Can Share.’
