Fair

The day is here,
Boys and girls like to go to the Fair,
The boy with fair hair runs to the fair show,
The Fair Grounds are near Jim's house.

ring

- The boy heard the bell ring and hurried to the show.
- The dog jumps through the ring.
- There are many rings in the big place of woods.
- The pet show is held near the gate in a ring with a rope around it.

shadow

The white sheep rest in the long shadow of the tall tree.
The building shadows the cow that left the field.
Jim went around looking for his way out, with Picky following him like a shadow.

The sun begins to rise higher in the morning.

The leaves are now red and gold, and they begin to fall.

The airplane takes off again at noon. "May we go to see Papa?" they asked his father.

eleven

Just ten eleven men of gold in the world.
The strange noise triggered the brain and started the world.
Ten's under ten of men of eleven of men, by the way.

tight

The rope is tight around the tree,
The boards are tight together,
The red boat is water-tight.

Jim found Finky, his pet, and held on tight to her for the Fall.

shoulder

Patty carries a kitten on her shoulder.
Her umbrella rests on the other shoulder.
Jim stalks around the ring looking over his shoulder at Patsy.

The race track will really start in the afternoon.
The school boys should around the ring.
The children are up at the same time.
My father is not, and they could after him.

pasture

The animals were put out to pasture late in the spring.
The rich pasture land is on the hillside.
Tom was left behind to work in the pasture.

nails

The bird house was fastened to the branch with a few nails.
A barrel, filled with water, was nailed to the fence.
The nails and the hammer were left on the ground.
Tom waited for the nails to fix the fence.

washed

The small river washes the bricks of the bridge.
The ducks are not far from their whitewashed society.
Jim is washing Fido, and she will be very clean.

wins

Ellen wins her way with her puppy.

Jim wins the man to talk at last.

"Who wins for the best looking pet?" asks Jim.

"This beautiful dog wins the blue ribbon," answers the man.

The gate opened at nine o'clock in the morning.
There are nine balloons in all on the fence.
He with his pig ran around nine times before he spotted that the way out.

luck

It was the farmer's luck to win a calf at the fair.
Henry got it partly for luck.
It was Tom's bad luck to slip at home to fix the fence.

all through the morning the sky was blue and clear,
at the end of the game, Jack's ball went sky high,
as the sun was high in the sky, Tom knew that it was passed right over his head.

fastened

The doors of the barn are fastened together by a board.
A big eye is fastened to the door.
You are fastening a belt around the pig's neck.

clapped

The sky was dark, and all around a loud clap was the sound.
The rest of the world was clapping like on the beach.
As the light appeared, the beautiful dog wagged his tail.

circle

Look at the airplane. The illustration is left side, reach the ground.
The corner and the drawing. Looking for another.
There was a sign in a circle on the building.
Perhaps it was flying for landing many things in a circle.

mile

The path that leads along the river is a mile long.
The distance of a mile may seem like nothing,
You would be surprised to see how long it takes to get a mile to the end.

already

The spider is already down on the ground waiting for you.

The field is already yellow with hay.

The sun is already gone. I told my dog to lay down to leave the picture.

An illustration of a boy in a white shirt pulling down a red, white, and blue flag on a pole. A girl in a blue shirt sits on the grass nearby. In the background, there is a tree with autumn leaves, a white fence, and mountains under a blue sky with a small airplane flying. The word "lower" is written in white text in the upper right corner.

lower

Lower than the cat is David's new ball.
David tried to lower the flag by pulling the string.
You see an airplane coming lower and lower toward the field.

The rook tells us that the wind blows north, and it is getting cold.
The North Star is higher up cold about a mile from the farm.
Tom flew north to the Fair to see the airplane race.

POWS

There is a row of maple trees behind the barn.
The white rabbit jumps through the rows of cabbage plants.
The pumpkins grow between the rows of corn all along the ground.

fruit

The boxes of fruit were beside the stand,
The largest fruit cake that Sally made was bought for five dollars.
Money raised at the Fair was the fruit of much work.
The children wanted to drink fruit juice.

Honorable bread was sold at the stand.

Corn sold at a low price, because much of it had been raised that summer.

Felix sold pumpkins at a good stand to raise money.

The air fell and landed on the big plane.
The air fell land on the grass.
The air will land on the big plane.
Some people in the air will have land like this air.
The air has landed in the plane.

All kinds of trees are seen below.
The houses below look small but bright.
From the airplane Tom can see the village below, and all is very happy.

raised

The truck raised the dust from the road.
Joe raised white chickens, and he is feeding them.
The boy raised a smile as he looked at his chickens.
Peter raised the pumpkins, and his father carries the biggest one to the fair.

glasses

Billy pays for a glass of milk. There was a row of white glasses with a straw in each. The children went by and stopped to look at the glasses of jam.

load

The loads of hay were brought close to the barn.
There was a load of wood piled inside the farmhouse.
Peter helped load the truck with pumpkins.

different

There were two different houses across the field.
Ravi liked to look at Sam's bicycle which was painted two different colors.
Ravi sold pumpkins of different sizes and used the money to buy a bicycle.

twenty-nine

When Twenty-Nine is now ready to leave for the races,
David counted twenty-nine trees on his way home through the back road.
The Fair Grounds were twenty-nine miles away from the farm.

son

The farmer's son has been fishing since this morning.
The father's son likes to slide on the driveway.
He is a son of Italy.

Mr. Jones and his son, Peter, looked at the pumpkins in the garden.

wall

Woods grow near the red brick wall.
The goat eats in the shadow of the wall.
The Peter Dinklage team walked some time ago.
Peter's big pumpkin was near the wall in the Children's Building.

SIZE

The Children's Building was twice the size of the Food Building.
They were two boys of the same size on the ground.
Of all the vegetables at the Fair, not one was half the size of Peter's.

empty

The empty basket lay on the grass,
Peter is coming along with an empty bag to fill it up with corn,
A man in an empty truck drove up to the stand,

beaver

The beaver has shiny eyes and a big flat tail.
The beaver is an animal that lives both on land and in water.
The beaver builds his house near the water.
There is a story about a beaver riding to Animal Town.

stone

Farmer is making a stone wall,

while digging to see a pig with a red stone,

There are big stones, biffed him,

The grass stone goes to be a tree.

On his way to the wooden bridge, Billy saw a house with a stone.

polite

The pony was very polite and let the cart go by.
The polite giraffe showed the way through the gate.
After a while the lion jumped into the cart again, and was very polite.

woke

The sound of footsteps woke up the boy, and he was surprised to see his friend.

The boy at last woke up to the idea of helping in the field, but he woke up because he heard a splashing noise.

sprinkle

The little girl liked to sprinkle the flowers with water.
The elephant's trunk was sprinkled with water.
The lady showed them how to sprinkle water on the cabbages.

There are beautiful views in the woods,
The wooden fence marks between the back and the park,
The wooden house is near the river,
Billy Brown was on his way to Animal Town in a wooden cart.

grumble

The dog began to grumble as he tried to catch the wasp flying around him.
John would grumble when left alone to care for the sheep.
My heard the dog's grumbling notes.

The piglet grumbled and grumbled all the way while riding in the cart.

welcome

Everyone is welcome to walk in the park.

There is a sign at the corner to welcome you to the house.

"Thank you," said the rabbit. "You are very welcome," said Billy Beaver.

An illustration of a person with a purple and white striped headband and a red and white striped wrap, sitting on a grassy bank by a blue river. The person is leaning back with their eyes closed, appearing to be napping. In the background, there are green hills, a blue sky, and a small boat on the water. The word 'nap' is written in white lowercase letters on the left side of the image.

Don't often take a nap while you're busy doing things.
The only reason you should nap is when you're really tired.
You may feel like you need a longer nap on such a hot day.

It was cool along the bank of the river because it was a shady place.
The house stood in the shade of the trees.
The pigs ate in a shelter made of grass.
The crowd they sat in the shade, and watched the children pick the garbage apart.

Joe likes his new jacket, because it is right and it keeps him warm.
He threw his old jacket on the log.
Joe's story book has a plain jacket.
Billy Bower met a forest rabbit with a red jacket, and asked him to hop in.

shakes

The sleepy donkey shakes his ears as he moves along very slowly.
He is going away from the old donkey farm.
Tom shakes hands with the farmer every time they meet.
The rabbit says, "The bumpy bridge shakes on all fours."

An illustration of a tropical scene. In the foreground, a girl in a blue and white dress carries two large, round water pots on a wooden yoke across her shoulders. She is walking towards the left. In the background, a boy in a red and white striped shirt and a white turban lies on his back on a grassy patch, looking up. A blue bird is flying in the sky. To the right, there is a wooden birdhouse on a post with a pink flower. The background shows a blue ocean and a green hill under a light sky. The word "idea" is written in a simple, white font in the upper left quadrant.

idea

The girl's idea of feeding the blue bird became true.
That was her idea of being kind.
Now she is going to the well with the idea of getting some water.
There was a boy who could think of more than one idea to have his work done.

yawn

The donkey gave a loud yawn, and moved slowly with the basket on its back.
The elephant yawned to be filled his trunk with water.
The boy woke up old in a big yawn upon to the elephant.

moment

In a particular moment, he pulled the girl into the water. In a few moments, the girl will be in the boat. The boy lay in the grass, thought for a moment, then fell asleep.

farther

The small airplane flies farther away from the country place.
The man will farther toward the open sea to catch fish.
Billy Beaver, with the old rabbit, was going farther and farther away from home.

behave

The grey rabbit learnt to behave with his eyes closed. The ground crumbles.
The tractor does not behave slowly in the morning when he wakes up the mother visits.
The old rabbit did not behave as if he liked to ride, as he had to work.

asleep

Everything was quiet and the donkey was eating off the grass...
The little boy's wife hiding plans, and he opportunities on the ground,
Said did not do what he was told to do... but he then...
and asleep...

begged

The white dog begged Master Bird the bird
The dog saw the bird and begged for food to stroke the eye.
The elephant begged to splash water on the red dog.

path

The long path leads to the garden.

All beautiful sights are found on both sides of the path.

Although they walk up, he saw it just nearby, and told the animal to cut the grass along the path.

An illustration of a river scene. In the foreground, a boy in a yellow loincloth is running across several large, light-colored rocks in the water. In the middle ground, two other boys are sitting on a log bridge that spans across the river. One boy is wearing a white loincloth and the other is wearing an orange loincloth. In the background, a girl in a red loincloth is running on a grassy bank. There are several trees, including palm trees, and a blue sky. The word "fellow" is written in white lowercase letters in the upper right corner of the illustration.

A little fellow tells his friend about the shortest way to town.
The other fellow hurries and jumps across on the stones, leaps. The clumsy fellow, runs home to go to bed.

The grass is but a small part of our big round world,
Rain will do the plants a world of good,
The squirrel is of the animal world,
Mother squirrel loves her family more than anything else in the whole world.

rushed

The wind rushed the dry leaves to the ground.
The branches rushed down the river.
One late afternoon the owl rushed out of his home because of noisy neighbors waking him up.

smoke

As heavy smoke came out of the hole,
The animals could not stand the smoky air.
After the fire went out, and the smoke was going away, the animals finally went to sleep.

The image is a vertical collage of three photographs. The top photograph shows a bright sun setting over a beach with palm trees and a small hut. The middle photograph shows a person with long hair lying in a hammock, suspended between wooden posts. The bottom photograph shows a sunset over a dense forest. The word "evening" is written in white, lowercase letters across the top right of the collage.

In the evening the people are at home and rest under a dark blue sky.
The light in the farm houses can well be seen even early in the evening.
Every evening Brown Bird would sing until he is very sleepy.

The owl is a bird with a big head and big eyes.

The owl knows how to find his way at night.

There was an owl who lived in the trunk of the old tree close to the house of the squirrels.

complain

Mother squirrel would complain about the size of nuts found.
The bird complained about his last meal.
The owl wanted to get rid of Red Head, but she did not want to complain.

orange

The bark of the trees was orange red,
The once dark path was now an orange colored ribbon,
Red Wood, always on the watch, saw orange flames coming up.

led

The young fox led a quiet life in the forest.
The flames led the owl to another home.
When the squirrel saw the fox, she got her babies, led them to another tree, and watched the flames with the owl, her neighbors.

song

The bird brought his song to me and others, flapping his wings,
The way girls like listening as he comes near his home.
But Bird thinks that evening, and his song was sweet and long.

bothered

The study branch bothered the bird,
The woodpecker bothered the busy old man in his shop,
But the owl was a neighbor who never bothered anybody.

dry

Paul has dry leaves left on the old tree
He took off his shoes and put them near the dry branches.
The boy makes a fire of dry sticks using the old tree.

spread

A flower spread out before us,
with flames spread a glow light all around the place,
When the woodpecker saw the fire spread to the old logs, he screamed loudly in surprise.

poured

The rain poured down the hill,
The dog hid in the cave while the rain came pouring down,
At last the rain poured down and put out the fire.

The largest limb of the oak tree was cut into two pieces.
The strange bird-like creature from his head took Mother squirrel and his babies lived in the limb of an old tree.

An illustration of an owl perched on a branch in a forest. The owl is on the left, looking towards the right. In the background, a person in a red shirt is visible near a tree. The scene is set in a forest with autumn foliage. The word "hunt" is written in white text in the upper right area.

It was a good day for the boys. They searched their traps and found some mice. They were glad and they will hunt all day in the traps.
The boys will find the small birds and eggs.

flames

scolded

The squirrel had scolded to be just another one of his kind.
The chicken looked up, back and scolded because he had to be done scolding.
The squirrel scolded more to the other scolding the only scolding.

Christ

Christ is with us in His wonderful world,
The poor man begged help from others in the name of Christ,
Others was willing to work for Christ by baptizing people across the wide seas.

child

The dog followed the child and his man.
The dog, in his own way, looked for the child.
The dog was happy to be on his staff while helping the child across the sea.

marry

Some people marry very young.
The king's son wanted to marry a beautiful girl.
There was once a lovely girl who had slept up for what seems to marry.

pool

The still waters of the pool were of many colors.
Flora and fauna are found all around the pool.
When Brigit asked God to become angry, she splashed her face in the pool, and her prayer was answered.

WOFFY

The boy began to worry about his lost sheep.
The old man worried about his sick daughter.
How did God like her name; she began to worry about it, and begged
the Father of God to change it.

huge

The land here stood against a huge mountain and there the deep sleep,
There were huge plants around the water,
The man made a huge staff to help him avoid the wide sleep,

The brave, full-headed man was looking all over.
The watermen leaved the ground and began an building a light.
Dad's brave helper was glad to teach the other side with the child safe in his arms.

preached

A boy preached his play to his friend,
Patty is preaching by her kind action,
St. Patrick preached in the far away country, and a little girl liked to listen to him,
God's servant is a good preacher.

The boy was sent on an errand to the neighboring town. When he had come back he found some food for a living. King's father sent the other men, but they could not bring back his daughter's dowry.

The cross on the road is worthy of the children of God,
The blind man is worthy of his sight.

Simon of Cyrene was named after the Mother of God, and the blind is fit worthy of her name.

fountain

Don't think of the flowing water of the fountain.
The water of the fountain is clean and cold.
Now want to the fountain apply. In the afternoon to get some water.

travelers

Some travelers have reached the top of the mountain.
Only one way did travelers use for the mountain.
People had to travel a long way in those days.
Others had a blind word for every traveler.

There will joy in the lady's eyes when they looked,
The day looked for joy when she saw the name
The child was, like a light, born when he found that the child was Christ.

A painting of a woman in a purple dress playing a harp in a rural landscape. In the background, there is a house with a red roof and a white tower, a fence, and a lake with a sailboat. The word "become" is written in white text in the upper right corner.

become

The wall here will become your's home,
The little girl and the white lamb, become friends,
A yellow dress becomes bright,
Bright turned to become, GIFT before yesterday. Was the rest of her life.

servant

The servant did not follow his master,
The master gave money to the servant,
The day bright became a servant of God, for beauty shall fade.

broken

The Potter has broken on the ground,
The broken-hearted girl tried to put the pieces of her jar together.
None could be proper, put the broken jar together, and found it could hold water no longer.

unkind

It is unkind to break eggs in the nest.
The unkind blue jay chased the robin to the nest when blue jay got up, the unkind boy will not break the ice too slowly for many.

storm

The sky was dark and the storm was frightening.
During that stormy night the wind blew hard and the waves rolled and rolled.
In this storm, a lady boy asked the blind man to carry her across the river.

The Holy Bible teaches us a lot about the great prophets.
The dog always looking for his master and never tired.
The prophet never stops for the rest of his life by helping people.

daughter

The woman is young, beautiful, and glowing. Her
The woman is young, beautiful, and glowing.
The woman is young, beautiful, and glowing.
The woman is young, beautiful, and glowing.

spent

The little girl was her first in the faith she,
 forty years long in the same language to her mother,
 might want her whole life doing the work of God.

jar

Look up the stone jar in the garden.

A few big jars were left at the fountain long ago.

With their eyes meeting, a boy came along, lit the jar of water, and it fell to shatter.

UNIT IV: ANIMALS IN TOWN AND COUNTRY

Story: THE BEARS' PICNIC

New Words: juicy cup plate grabbed thick frosting fur twice taken shells

Story: RINGTAIL, THE YOUNG RACCOON

New Words: raccoon crash thunder popped several juicy

The juicy leaves hung from the rabbit's mouth.
The juicy berries on the bushes made the bears hungry.
The bears found juicy oranges in the picnic lunch and will gobble them up soon.

thick

The bears walked through thick bushes.
There was thick grass on the bank of the river.
Mama bear liked the thick crown on the robin.

The people in the car have taken an interest in the bears' way of living. The old bear has taken pride in training her cubs to "find food". In a few minutes they had taken a good meal.

A vibrant, stylized illustration of a landscape. In the foreground, a large tree with bright orange and yellow autumn leaves stands on the right. A blue river flows from the background towards the center, with white foam where it cascades. In the background, there are rolling hills in shades of green and yellow, and a small white house with a red roof on the left. The sky is a deep blue with white clouds and a sun with rays. The word "thunder" is written in a white, serif font across the top right of the scene.

The sky was a deep blue, and the thunder clapped and clapped.
Far away from the forest, the waterfall thundered down to the river.
A fox barked toward a crash of thunder and dashed back to his den.

clam

Clam shells of all sizes are left to dry.
Clams live in sand along the river.
Kingfisher went fishing off shore, and his prey was caught inside of clam shells.

whistle

The wind whistled by the window, and the waves washed on the shore. The redwinged black bird whistled louder when he heard the wind. The young ground hog was lying in the sun when he heard his mother give a loud whistle.

A colorful illustration of a landscape. In the foreground, a brown dog with a white patch on its chest is looking towards the left. The ground is green with some flowers and a fallen orange leaf. In the middle ground, a light blue river flows through a valley. On the right bank, a horse is grazing. The background features several trees with green and blue foliage under a blue sky. The word "clover" is written in white lowercase letters across the top of the scene.

The clover plant had a roundish head of red or white flowers.
The cow is looking for clover to eat.
Clover could get food from the clover field and water from the stream.

cup

The paper cup was knocked over by the cub.
A cup of milk was left on the top of the oak stump.
Whether they sipped her juice to hold the cubes,
She tried to eat both cupcakes at the same time and enjoyed them.

Frosting

By Thomas

It was not safe to leave that frosty glass on the grass.
The bear shook his glass and squizzled bits of frosting on the ground.
Look at the big Mother Bear with frosting on her mouth and nose.

shells

A young bear dug into a box of shells.
The peanuts had been shelled and were good to eat.
The other bears watched the eggs and ate them even with the shells.

popped

Smoke popped in the air when the gun was fired.
Mother Bird popped in to see if her nest was safe.
Another crash of thunder and Kingbird popped into his hole.

stream

A white dog swam in the stream.
The tall reeds grew a row of light in the water.
The large plants made long shadows in the stream.
The dog swam and jumped back to the bank of the stream on the bank.

unless

The children will not be given keys unless we have more time.
Charlie, the young ground hog, will not go back to his hole until he finds something to eat.
Charlie's mother never worried that way unless a real danger was ahead.

flood

After a heavy rain, the hills were flooded.
The flood brought the water to the river.
The dog woke up and found his home was all flooded.

plate

The bear ate the eggs that had been piled on the plates.
The silver plated knife shined in the sun.
After the cub licked the plate clean, there was little food left on the white cloth.

fur

The red fur of the fox can be seen from far away.
Mother-Bear took good care of her furry babies.
She looked funny with floating stick hair and there to her fur.

A young raccoon with a striped tail is climbing a tree trunk. The background shows a landscape with rolling hills, a river, and trees with autumn-colored leaves. The word "raccoon" is written in a white, sans-serif font in the upper right corner.

raccoon

The raccoon is an animal with a thick coat of hair and a bushy ringed tail. Raccoons live mostly in trees and work at night. Ringtail, a young raccoon, left his home in the tree and climbed down to visit the world.

several

There are several kinds of plants in the water.

Several stars can be seen tonight.

Several weeks later the water family went on a fishing trip.

rocks

He was down to climb the rocky hill,
Wild flowers grew between the rocks on that hill,
Doubtful with his mother had just gone to their home when they saw the head of a fierce dog between the rocks.

fight

A dog is fighting for the life of the child.
During the storm a tide fought against the waves and helped to the victory.
There he got out a high wave where it passed over him, but they did not fight.

grabbed

The turtle grabbed a tiny piece of bread and hid in the tall grass.
Pete grabbed sweet food on Mother Bear's black coat of hair.
The leaves grab peanuts and cakes and seem to be looking for more.

An illustration of a brown bear and a smaller cub in a forest. The bear is on the right, leaning forward, and the cub is on the left, leaning back. They appear to be in a playful or affectionate interaction. The background shows several tall, thin trees and a few evergreens under a pale sky.

twice

The blue game stands ready to follow its cue,
The old bear is twice as large as the young cub.
It can feel its head stuck in a case of confusion, and before Mother Bear hit the cue to free her baby.

The chair crashed through the cabin and broke in sharp halves on it. At the sound of the crash, the squirrel stopped, held on tight to the bark of the tree. Stappell had not gone far when he heard a loud crash near his house, and he was frightened.

apart

The pieces were not far apart from any neighbor—some large shells had been set apart from the others.
Father Raccoon walked into the water, found a shell, and put it apart.

fright

A slighter cry was heard when the gun was fired in the night.
Like lightning, was the water rushing faster and wilder to fight its tide in the little stream.
Flooded never kept the great night, and now how wonderful and so true the power too beautiful, falling.

enemies

The image that has always haunted the dog
the memory that haunts the children's mind says Charlie's name is like his himself inside a tree in the 1997 during

It was frightful to look at the ship during the thunder storm.
The waves filled the boat with water during the storm.
Oswald and his dog stayed on the deck during hours and days of heavy weather to keep warm.

elf

The little fellow lying on a leaf is an elf who likes to play tricks.
Look at the other elf keeping the bird house.
Fairy or tiny boy, looked for an elf who would tell him where the pot of gold was hidden.

forward

The lazy boy thought of forwarding his plan with the help of the all.
The all's tall cap was pulled forward shading his long nose.
Tom strut forward from behind a tree and saw the all driving rocks like a tiny shoe.

pear

The pears were picked from the best tree in the world.
The pear-shaped bag is filled with clothes left by a traveler.
A man sent his eldest son with a basket of five pears to bring to the king.

witch

The witch was an ugly woman who wanted to know everything.
The witch was taking honey out of the beehive.
On his way to the palace, the oldest son met the witch in a clover field and the fellow lied to her.

reward

The yellow bird pecks and pecks and is often rewarded with good food.
The walk to the palace was a reward for the young man.
The youngest son did not lie to the witch, so she rewarded him.
The witch rewarded the boy for not lying to her by changing the peans to real gold.

sea

The boy wants to go to sea to spend his life on the blue water.
The high sea is sweeping away the large sail.
The golden fish was happy to be thrown into the sea, and he promised the fisherman a reward.

single

Not a single bird could be seen.
The maple trees were singled out as the most colorful trees.
Tom spent every single day of the week trying to find the Fairy Shoemaker.

A stream of light glanced between the leaves,
The blunderbust cast a quick glance and headed for the grove,
The Fairy, Moonmaker did not even glance at the boy in answer to his greetings!

ripe

As soon as the wheat is ripened it will be ground and made into flour.
The growing vine has some ripe grapes.
Every pear in the tree was golden ripe and very juicy.

The plant was put into fresh black dirt,
The old lady rubbed her dirty hand on her red apron,
The witch changed the pears into dirt.

The leaves slapped the blockhead's wings.
The servant stepped on the loose board and stepped it to the ground.
When the boy reached the palace and asked to see the king, a servant slapped him on the chest.

hut

The fisherman's huts were built long ago, and some are very small.
Between the huts there is a place for the fish to dry.
The old man went home to his hut and told his wife about the fish that promised to give him something.

ragged

The child putted the dog's ragged coat of hair,
The small garden beside the hut was very ragged,
The old wife asked for satin and velvet clothes because she did not want to wear her ragged dresses anymore.

toe

The toe of Tom's shoes was shiny.
Tom heard a song while he tiptoed quietly in the meadow.
He heard someone tapping and singing, "Took a toe."

disappear

The boys picked the best nuts and disappeared in the forest.
The nut is slowly disappearing behind the mountains,
With dust in his eyes, Tom did not see the fly all disappear.

Everybody is welcome at the palace.

The palace is a large building with many rooms.

The younger ones wanted to go to the palace with their brother.

CROWN

There is a crown pointed on the king's throne.
The robin crowns the hill, and can be seen from the palace.
When the crowned king found the dirt and ran the gears in the miller, he became very angry.

It was a reward to look at the princess, because she was very pretty.
The princess brought the bed to see the king.
The king and the princess were surprised to see the pearls of real gold.

edge

A lad edged his way nearer to the water.
The little boy carried a knife with the sharp edge up.
The edge of the land is roped.
Many times the fishermen went to the edge of the sea and begged the fish to make his wife happy by giving her the things she wanted.

Little Mary is known as the queen of the fisherman's village.
She likes the rose, the queen of flowers.
The old wife became queen for a short time.

heel

Tom came nearer and nearer trying hard to stamp his heels into the wet ground.

There were prints of a small heel here and there in the muddy path.

Tom could hear the pounding of a hammer and the song, "Took a toe, took a heel."

The fairy is trying to throw a small rock into the jar.

The large tree throws a shadow on the grass.

Tom grabbed the fairy so he could not throw that again, but the fairy boy was fixed in another way.

velvet

The palace grounds look like a tight green velvet carpet.
The flower beds, velvet petals.
The women at the palace wear velvet clothes.

locked

The top of the heavy lock is knocking on the wall.

Twice he had gone home setting his lock of lead.

The key was hidden in an underground room by orders of the King.

fisherman

The fisherman went to fishing by catching and selling fish.

The fisherman left the nets to dry in the boat.

One day a poor fisherman caught a golden fish that begged and begged to be back into the water.

husband

The husband is getting old and must husband his strength.
A young wife moved to her husband who was leaving for the sea.
The old woman was not kind to her husband and would completely and right to have his wife.
