Barbara Masin, author of Gauntlet: Five Friends, 20,000 Enemy Troops, and the Secret That Could Have Changed the Course of the Cold War has been a featured speaker in Slovakia, the Czech Republic and Germany. Inspired by the testament of celebrated World War II resistance leader, Czech general Josef Masin, father of two of the young men in the story and grandfather of the author, this is a dramatic true story of courage and daring against overwhelming odds; a story that addresses policy and moral dilemmas facing the world even today.

Moderated by Igor Lukes
