BOSTON CAN SHARE: There's still plenty of room for more cans in the bin located in the lobby of the School of Medicine. Canned foods are being collected until Tuesday, Nov. 26 as part of the Boston Can Share food drive to feed the hungry in eastern Massachusetts. See story inside. (Photo by Domenic Screnici)

TRADITIONAL THANKSGIVING DAY MEALS PLANNED FOR ON-DUTY HOSPITAL EMPLOYEES

A traditional holiday meal will be served in the F-1 Cafeteria from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 4 to 7 p.m. on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 28. All UH employees who are on duty that day are invited to attend.

The meal will be free for all employees, compliments of the Hospital. Visitors will be charged $5.25 for the meal. UH employees may obtain tickets for the meal from their departmental administrators.

In addition, the Hospital's Dietary Department will provide a buffet for the 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. staff on Thanksgiving night. Tickets are not needed for the meal. As in the past, nursing administrators will donate their services for the set-up of the meal.

UNIVERSITY CREDIT UNION CHANGES BUMC BRANCH HOURS; MEMBERS CAN CALL MAIN BRANCH FOR MORE INFORMATION

Some confusion has arisen over the recently changed hours of the University Credit Union's Medical Center branch. Two weeks ago, Take One reported that the Medical Center branch is now open on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 a.m., but because all UH employees may not have seen that article, the message bears repeating.

As you may already know, the Medical Center Branch of the Credit Union shares counterspace in the basement of the Talbot Building with the BUMC Department of Security and Telecommunications, but members of the Department are not representatives of the Credit Union and are therefore not able to answer questions regarding Credit Union services.

For more information about the Credit Union, however, please call the main branch of the Credit Union at the Charles River Campus at 353-2393.

BUMC EMPLOYEES URGED TO BRING IN CANNED GOODS AS 'BOSTON CAN SHARE' FOOD DRIVE CONTINUES

The Boston Can Share food drive currently under way has so far been a success, according to University Hospital's director of Special Services, Albert Sherman.

The bin recently placed in the lobby of Boston University School of Medicine is rapidly filling with cans of nutritious food. These cans, donated by Medical Center employees, students and visitors, will be used to feed hungry people in eastern Massachusetts.

The drive, which ends on Tuesday, Nov. 26, is led by Boston's Mayor Raymond L. Flynn and sponsored by 12 of Boston's major employers, including BUMC. Medical Center employees are urged to contribute to the food drive if they have not already done so.

The food will be transported to the Boston Food Bank Warehouse in Jamaica Plain. The Food Bank Warehouse is a nonprofit group that distributes surplus food at no cost to emergency programs that feed the hungry throughout eastern Massachusetts.

Take One is published for the employees of University Hospital every second Thursday by the Office of Informational Services, Boston University Medical Center. For copy submission or information, please contact April Lindner, editor; or Owen J. McNamara, director, Office of Informational Services, DOB-600, x8482.

ADDITIONAL PRIZE DRAWING PLANNED FOR UH EMPLOYEES WHO GIVE TO THE UNITED WAY

The deadline for Hospital employees who wish to become eligible to win a pair of tickets to a Celtics basketball game has been extended to Nov. 29. The names of employees making donations of $15 or more to the United Way between Nov. 4 and Nov. 29 will be entered into the special prize drawing scheduled for Nov. 29. For more information, please contact campaign manager Susan Siegel at x8990 (638-8990).

UH EMPLOYEES WHO GIVE BLOOD DURING NOVEMBER COULD WIN DINNER FOR TWO OR CELTICS TICKETS

Dinner for two at the Top of the Hub restaurant and a pair of front-row seats at a Celtics game may be won by two UH employees who donate blood during the month of November. These two prizes will be given away in a drawing to be held on Nov. 30.

The names of Hospital employees who give blood in December will automatically be entered in a prize drawing to be held at the end of that month. Dinner for two at the Scotch 'n' Sirloin restaurant and another pair of front-row seats at a Celtics game will be given away in the December drawing.

All employees who give blood at any time will receive their choice of four hours of vacation time, a free tee-shirt or a copy of the "City Book," which contains coupons for discounts at a variety of area stores and restaurants.

For more information about donating blood, please contact Marilyn Karpenski, blood donor recruiter for UH, at x7855.

RECEPTION HELD TO HONOR WOODS

Pauline Woods, supervisor in the Hospital's Materials Distribution Center, recently was honored at a reception held in the Hospital's Wilkins Board Room. Woods is retiring after 27 years of service to University Hospital.
