FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Newton residents Miriam Horwitz, president of Aid for Cancer Research, second from left, and Phyllis Frank, ACR presentation chairperson, far right, joined William and Selma Aronson, far left and center, and Herbert H. Wotiz, Ph.D., a professor of biochemistry at Boston University School of Medicine and deputy director and research coordinator of the School's Hubert H. Humphrey Cancer Research Center, second from right, in a dedication ceremony for equipment donated to BUSM by Aid for Cancer Research. The group donated money for a High Performance Liquid Chromatography system used to purify or separate substances, to be used in the School's Department of Biochemistry. The equipment was dedicated to Selma Aronson for her 30 years service to Aid for Cancer Research. Aid for Cancer Research is an organization of 30 women from the Greater Boston area that raises funds to advance cancer research. The group will hold its 35th annual luncheon and fashion show on May 23 at the Boston Park Plaza Hotel.
